

The insurance industry is changing

In an age of digital transformation, when services need to be instantly available online, it is the insurance companies that use technology to their advantage that will win the race for wallet share. Leading carriers, brokers and MGAs globally are coming to INSTANDA to capitalize on an increasingly connected consumer landscape and respond at lightning speed to evolving markets.

INSTANDA is a SaaS-based digital insurance solution that enables carriers and Managing General Agents (MGAs) to design, build and launch insurance products across the Property and Casualty and Life and Health categories.

INSTANDA's fully customizable policy administration platform allows clients to build for numerous product lines and channels. Underpinned by sophisticated underwriting and distribution capabilities, INSTANDA gives insurance teams the ability to innovate at scale and deliver solutions to markets in a matter of weeks or months, not years.

INSTANDA is the future of insurance - are you ready to join the revolution?
